Enhanced Care Management and Community Supports

Enhanced Care Management (ECM)

Alliance members can get Enhanced Care Management (ECM) services to help manage their health care. With ECM, you can get the care you need to stay healthy. ECM can also connect you to community resources.

If you are eligible for ECM services, you will have a special care manager to help with your health care and social needs. ECM care managers work with your doctors and other health care providers.

Community Supports (CS)

Community Supports (CS) are services that may not include direct medical care. The Alliance offers Community Supports to help members with needs like:

- Food.
- Housing.
- Safety changes to your home.

How to get services

To find out if you can get ECM or CS services, call the Alliance at 800-700-3874.

If you would like to learn more and apply, go to www.thealliance.health/memberecmcs.

Teenage girls' health and chlamydia screenings

Teenage girls go through many personal changes in their early teen years. Girls getting their menstrual period is a turning point from being a child to a teenager.

Menstruation can be different for each girl. Some girls may have light symptoms. Some girls may have more severe symptoms, such as depression, headaches and heavy menstruation flows. A doctor may recommend birth control medication to help with their symptoms.

If a girl is prescribed birth control, their doctor may ask to screen for chlamydia. This is a safety check for your teen.

Chlamydia is a sexually transmitted disease. It is a silent infection and doesn't have symptoms. It can cause serious damage to a woman's reproductive system if it goes untreated. It is best to catch it early.

The doctor may ask for a urine test to make sure your teen's reproductive system is healthy. There is no cost to you for this test. Contact your doctor for questions about your teen's health and if they are due for a chlamydia screening.

Are you up to date with checkups?

Checkups are regular visits to the doctor that are important for you and your family's health. They are offered at no cost to members of the Alliance.

What happens at a checkup?

At a checkup, your doctor will:

- Go over your personal and family health history.
- Give health screenings based on age.
- Make sure vaccines are up to date.
- Review your medications.
- Provide referrals to specialty care and dental services.

How do I prepare for a checkup?

- Bring any medications that you are taking or that your doctor has prescribed.
- Know your family history for chronic diseases and health conditions.

- Prepare any questions or concerns you have about your health.

How often should we get a checkup?

- Babies get checkups three to five days after birth and when they reach these monthly milestones: 1, 2, 4, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18, 24 and 30 months of age.
- Adults and children ages 3 and older get yearly checkups.

Discover local health allies: Community Health Workers!

Alliance members can now get Community Health Worker (CHW) services from participating providers.

CHWs have both lived experience and training to provide preventive health services. CHWs are also known as promotores, community service aides or health navigators.

Covered CHW services include:

- Health education.
- Health navigation.
- Individual support and advocacy.
- Screening and assessments.

If you think you may benefit from this service, talk with your primary care doctor. You may also contact Member Services at 800-700-3874. For the Hearing or Speech Assistance Line, call 800-735-2929 (TTY: Dial 711).

Members can earn gift cards for getting checkups, managing chronic conditions, adopting healthy habits and more. For details, visit www.thealliance.health/healthrewards.

Colorectal cancer screenings

Dr. Heinert is a Medical Director for Central California Alliance for Health with over 20 years of experience in patient care and healthcare management.

With Dr. Maya Heinert

In the United States, colorectal cancer is the third most common cancer found in men and women. Colorectal cancer happens when cells in the colon or rectum grow out of control. Here are a few things you need to know about colorectal cancer screening.

What is a colorectal cancer screening? Why is it important?

A colorectal cancer screening is when your doctor checks to see if you have any precancerous polyps (small clumps of cells) or signs of colorectal cancer. The screening is used to check for disease even if you don't have any symptoms. It is important to check for cancer through regular screenings, because early treatment works best to help prevent serious health issues.

Screening tests consist of something as simple as a stool test. The test is usually done every one to two years in people 50 to 80 years of age as part of an annual exam. Some people will need a colonoscopy, which allows a doctor to see inside the intestine using a flexible scope. It is important for a doctor to determine the best screening test for you.

Am I at risk for colorectal cancer?

Colorectal cancer is most commonly found in adults ages 65 to 74. However, there has been an increase in colorectal cancer in adults 40 to 49 years old.

You might be more likely to develop colorectal cancer if:

- You have inflammatory bowel disease.
- Someone in your family has had colorectal cancer or polyps.

There are other parts of your lifestyle that can affect your risk level for colorectal cancer. This can include diet, exercise, and the use of alcohol and tobacco products.

When should I get screened for colorectal cancer? How often should I get screened?

If you are 45 to 75 years old, you should be screened once a year for colorectal cancer.

How do I set up a screening?

Talk to your doctor. They can help you understand which kind of screening will be best for you.

Does the Alliance cover colorectal cancer screening?

Yes. You can be screened for colorectal cancer at no cost to you.

What should I do if I have questions?

Contact your doctor's office if you have questions about colorectal cancer screening.

For the Hearing or Speech Assistance Line, call 800-735-2929 (TTY: Dial 711).

GETTING AN APPOINTMENT:

How long should you have to wait?

As a member of the Alliance, it is your right to have timely access to network providers, but sometimes it is not possible for a doctor to see you right away. Some appointments might take longer to schedule than others.

We work with the providers and clinics in our network to make sure you can get care when you need it.

Health plans in California have to meet certain standards for access to care. The regulations to put this law into place are called the Timely Access to Non-Emergency Health Care Services standards.

The chart at right lists the standards for different types of appointments. The waiting times for an appointment may be longer if the provider feels that it will not harm your health. If they feel a longer wait time would not be harmful to your health, they must note it in your medical record.

Appointment type	You should be able to get an appointment within:
Urgent care appointments that do not require pre-approval (prior authorization).	48 hours
Urgent care appointments that do require pre-approval (prior authorization).	96 hours
Non-urgent (routine) primary care appointments.	10 business days
Non-urgent (routine) specialist care appointments.	15 business days
Non-urgent (routine) mental health provider (non-doctor) care appointments.	10 business days
Non-urgent (routine) appointments for ancillary (supporting) services for the diagnosis or treatment of injury, illness or other health condition.	15 business days
Other wait time standards	You should be able to get connected within:
Member Services telephone wait times during normal business hours.	10 minutes
 Telephone wait times for Nurse Advice Line.	30 minutes (connected to nurse)

>> If you feel you are not getting care when you need it, call Member Services at 800-700-3874 (TTY: 800-735-2929 or 711).
